Description

A very beautiful sheet representative of the trousseaus made in the first half of the 20th century. This piece, entirely hand-embroidered and hand-sewn, bears the initials "M-R" and displays remarkable craftsmanship executed with precision and consistency, notably featuring the use of plumetis, cordonnet, and bourdon stitches. Also noteworthy is the delicate openwork design with simple bridges and the scallop stitch finish that highlights the cut-out border of the hem. This sheet has retained its beautiful original color--white with just a hint of gray. With its impeccable drape and flow, embroidery with generous relief, and a romantic design, this piece is both elegant and refined. Antique linen in excellent condition, washed and ironed. ?
