Pair Of 19th-century Bronze Lamps - Torches With Lions And Eagle Talons, Cabinet Of Curiosities

590 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Bronze

Height : 46cm

Description

A unique pair of table lamps in the style of cabinets of curiosities, crafted from two 19th-century bronze torches, reminiscent of the works of Ferdinand Barbedienne, with no signature or definite attribution. The torches rest on three finely chiseled legs shaped like eagle's talons. The central shaft is adorned with three lion heads holding chains arranged in festoons. The upper section takes the form of an antique oil lamp, embellished with three small stylized flames. These high-quality bronze pieces are topped with two spectacular feather lampshades in shades of brown and copper, lending the ensemble a unique character that is particularly representative of the cabinet of curiosities aesthetic. The electrical work was completed entirely in our workshop, without any drilling or
