Description

Large Glass-Paste Vase - Art Nouveau Style - Floral Design - Second Half of the 20th Century

An elegant, decorative Art Nouveau-style glass-paste vase, made in the second half of the 20th century. This vase features a beautiful, slender shape, slightly tapered at the center and flaring out toward a wide upper opening. It is adorned with a rich floral design composed of flowering branches, foliage, and buds, in the spirit of the creations of the École de Nancy. The flowers, in shades of ruby red, purple, and pink, stand out against a luminous background of amber-yellow and orange tones, creating beautiful color contrasts. The design features relief and engraving effects that highlight the petals, the veins of the leaves, and the details of the botanical compositions. The upper portion is adorned with a wide frieze of foliage in purplish-brown hues, echoing the floral motifs at the base. A beautiful decorative piece, inspired by Art Nouveau stained glass works, particularly appealing for its warm colors and elegant naturalistic design. Period: second half of the 20th century. Style: Art Nouveau, in the style of the École de Nancy. Material: decorative pâte de verre. Height: 32 cm. A striking vase, ideal for complementing a collection of decorative glassware or adding an Art Nouveau touch to a traditional or contemporary interior.
