Description

Large Chinese porcelain bowl - Famille Rose design, gold background - 20th century - Diameter 32 cm A very beautiful and substantial Chinese porcelain bowl, featuring a rich polychrome design in the style of Famille Rose porcelain. This large circular bowl features a particularly abundant decoration of flowers, peonies, foliage, butterflies, and birds on a luminous gold background. The interior is adorned, at its center, with a lively scene depicting several Chinese figures in traditional costumes, moving through a garden and in front of a building with a green-tiled roof. The central composition is surrounded by a geometric frieze and a profusion of floral motifs in shades of pink, blue, green, and red. The exterior surface echoes this rich floral decoration, embellished with white medallions containing polychrome bouquets. The reverse bears a red stamp with Chinese characters as well as an inscription in English indicating that it is intended for decorative purposes and not for food use. Origin: China. Period: 20th century, likely the second half. Style: Famille Rose, in the style of Canton porcelain. Material: polychrome and gilded glazed porcelain. Dimensions: Diameter: 32 cm Condition: appears to be in good overall condition based on the photographs, with signs of wear on the base. A generously sized bowl, particularly decorative due to the richness of its glazes, the delicacy of its motifs, and the brilliance of its gilded background.
