Description

Large Still Life with Flowers, Pheasant, and Grapes - Monogrammed Oil on Canvas - 20th Century A beautiful and substantial oil on canvas depicting a sumptuous floral arrangement accompanied by a pheasant and a bowl of grapes, in the grand tradition of decorative still lifes. At the center of the composition, an elegant vase with sculpted decoration holds a generous bouquet of flowers in a variety of types and colors: roses, peonies, white flowers, tulips, and other garden blooms. The particularly rich color palette combines shades of pink, red, cream, yellow, and blue, enhanced by the various shades of green in the foliage. In the foreground, a pheasant with delicately rendered plumage rests on a mantelpiece, accompanied by a bowl filled with clusters of white and black grapes. The entire scene stands out against a soft-toned botanical background, lending depth and harmony to this particularly decorative composition. The work is monogrammed in red in the upper right corner, featuring stylized initials that have yet to be identified. This painting follows the tradition of large floral compositions and hunting still lifes, which were particularly popular in the 19th century and revived in the early 20th century. It is set in a large gilded frame with wide fluted moldings, embellished with beaded friezes and foliage motifs in the corners, which emphasize its decorative character.

Characteristics: Technique: oil on canvas. Subject: still life with flowers, a pheasant, and grapes. Signature: red monogram in the upper right corner. Period: first half of the 20th century. Dimensions: 84 × 66 cm. Frame: large gilded frame with foliage decoration and fluted moldings (minor losses). Condition: shows signs of age, with patina and visible traces of wear on the painting and frame. A striking work with a generous composition and harmonious colors, ideal for enhancing a living room, dining room, or a home with character.
