Description

Important gilded bronze and white marble torch in the style of Clodion Boizot 19th-century, Napoleon III period. Superb and significant torch (or candlestick) in finely chased and gilded bronze and white marble from the 19th-century Napoleon III period. A piece of remarkable craftsmanship, directly inspired by the great neoclassical creations of the 18th century in the style of Claude Michel, known as CLODION, and Louis-Simon BOIZOT. The Figures: The cylindrical white marble shaft is surrounded by three cherubs putti in gilded bronze, sculpted in the round. Their poses are particularly dynamic and expressive. A garland of laurel leaves in chiseled bronze winds its way up the column. The top forms a woven basket generously filled with fruit and foliage. The circular marble base rests on
