Description

A cylindrical black lacquer box embellished with gold leaf, inspired by Thai or Southeast Asian design, featuring a slender shape and a removable lid. It measures 35 cm in height and 7 cm in diameter. Its decoration is painted in fine gold and consists of floral friezes, lotus petal motifs, and stylized scrollwork, which adorn the body and highlight both ends with raised gold rings. A gold flower-shaped rosette decorates the inside of the base, and the lid features a star encircled in gold on its inner surface. The piece has a lovely patina, with a glossy lacquer finish, a few small chips, slight wear to the gilding, and areas where the lacquer is missing, as visible in the photos. This object was likely used to store manuscripts, scrolls, or precious items, and it will make a beautiful decorative piece for a library, an office,
