Description

An elegant Art Nouveau-style table lamp, with a base featuring a gilded metal sculpture (patinated bronze or regule--please specify) depicting a young woman with a smiling face, dressed in a light, draped gown and carrying a flower-adorned cornucopia over her shoulder, which serves as the lamp holder. The flowing drapery, wavy hair, and meticulous details of the face, hands, and feet lend the figure--which is sculpted from both the front and the back--great grace and movement. It rests on a square base of black marble veined with white. The lamp features a gold-colored twisted fabric power cord and a taupe-colored conical shade lined in white, giving it a vintage charm and warm lighting. The patina is natural, with a few minor signs of use and slight wear on the gilding, as visible in the photos. A beautiful
