Description

A late 19th-century Lombard trumeau, crafted from walnut and burl walnut, featuring elegant ebonized frames and moldings. The upper section features two doors with mercury mirrors and two candle holders below, while the carved volute cornice adds a distinctive touch. The base has a drop-down door that reveals an interior cabinet with four drawers and a central open compartment. The three drawers below, which are slightly curved like the sides, are supported by 45-degree braces and rest on scroll-shaped feet. The fir wood interior ensures sturdiness and durability, while the overall style makes this piece a refined example of Lombard craftsmanship. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this product requires restoration and refinishing. We strive to present the actual
