Description

A Barocchetto-style cabinet crafted from walnut with elegant walnut burl inlays, embellished with refined cherry wood trim and moldings. Originating in Tuscany and dating to the mid-18th century, this piece features a drop-down top that conceals an open compartment, which opens further with a leftward rotation, revealing a second open compartment beneath. The structure is distinguished by its serpentine legs, while the interior is made of poplar. The combination of these materials gives the cabinet a unique charm, typical of its era and region of origin. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this item requires restoration and refinishing. We strive to present the actual condition of the piece as fully as possible through the photos.
