Description

It is the indigo field that first catches the eye. Against this deep background, the oblong, almost octagonal medallions are arranged in staggered rows. Their crenellated outlines and small interior motifs lend the composition a lively rhythm, which is further enhanced by the floral borders on an ivory background. On the reverse side, the flat weave--dominated by terracotta tones--alternates between solid panels and decorative bands. The clasp is intact and functional, a discreet reminder of this beautiful bag's original purpose. Indigo, weathered reds, oranges, greens, and ivory harmonize with such precision that they make the piece as unique as it is endearing.
