central motif, creating contrast and visual hierarchy. The surface retains its polychrome paint applied directly to the metal. It was produced by Warden & Hotchkiss in Birmingham, one of England's leading metallurgical centers, placing it within the context of late 19th-century English production, which blended traditional craftsmanship with high-quality industrial manufacturing. With its sturdiness, proportions, and rich ornamentation, this piece is destined to be the centerpiece of any bedroom--ideal for a classic, eclectic, or historically inspired interior, a home with character, or a boutique hotel. It pairs perfectly with the Warden & Hotchkiss footboard (134 × 105 cm), which is also available.
