

19th-century Oak Gateleg Table - Two Flaps And One Drawer

1 600 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Oak

Length : 154.5 cm

Height : 75 cm

Depth : 52 cm

Description

An elegant 19th-century gateleg table made of solid oak, featuring a superb base with turned columns connected by crossbars. This beautiful antique table stands out for its ingenious two-flap design, allowing you to easily adapt it to your needs and your home décor. Particularly practical and versatile, it offers three different uses: When fully closed, it becomes an elegant, narrow console table, ideal for an entryway, living room, or against a wall. With a single drop-leaf open, it provides additional surface space while still being able to remain placed against a wall. With both drop-leaves extended, it transforms into a full-fledged dining table, perfect for entertaining several guests. It also features a discreet and functional drawer, providing additional storage space. Its magnificent oak tabletop, with its

Dealer

Camille Laurent Tourgis Antiquités
antiquaire généraliste

Mobile : 0632818057

allée des fauvettes

Hardelot-Plage 62152

distinct grain, boasts a beautiful varnished finish that highlights the wood's natural richness. Its turned legs, which are particularly decorative, lend it plenty of character and elegance. A charming antique table, as beautiful as it is functional, that will easily find its place in a country home, a classic interior, or a contemporary setting. Dimensions Length: 166 cm Depth (closed): 52 cm Depth (fully open): 154.5 cm Height: 75 cm Condition: Very good overall condition. The table has been carefully maintained and features a beautiful varnished finish. Camille Laurent Tournis Antiquités