

Louis XV-style Two-tray Tea Table In Marquetry And Gilded Bronze

1 100 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Marquetry

Description

Elegant Two-Tier Tea Table in Marquetry and Gilded Bronze - Louis XV Style - Early 20th Century A very elegant two-tiered tea table in the Louis XV style, dating from the early 20th century, featuring remarkable marquetry work and rich gilded bronze ornamentation. This charming side table is distinguished by its two stacked trays with flowing contours, adorned with delicate marquetry depicting floral bouquets, crafted from various types of wood in warm tones. The trays are accented by an elegant gilt-bronze molding that harmoniously follows their curved lines. The structure rests on four curved Louis XV-style legs, adorned with beautiful gilded bronze finials featuring foliage motifs, ending in gilded bronze feet. The ornate band features delicate gilt-bronze inlays

Dealer

Leleu Antiquités

Généraliste

Mobile : 0607415540

Varredes 77910

decorated with scrollwork and foliage, while side handles make it easy to move this charming tea table. The piece as a whole showcases exquisite cabinetmaking, combining the richness of the inlaid woods with the elegance of the gilt bronze. A particularly decorative piece of furniture, with harmonious proportions, that would be at home in a refined living room, a library, or an interior--whether classic or contemporary. This table can also serve as a serving table, a side table, or a display stand for collectibles. Period: Early 20th century, circa 1900-1920. Style: Louis XV. Materials: Wood veneer and floral marquetry, gilded bronze ornamentation. Dimensions Height: 87 cm Width: 78 cm Depth: 49 cm DELIVERY ONLY IN PARIS AND THE ÎLE-DE-FRANCE REGION FOR 85.00 EUROS For other shipping options, please provide your ZIP code and city so I can make a request with the carriers