Description

An elegant set of six Louis XV-period armchairs with flat backrests, known as "à la Reine" style. This 18th-century set is crafted from natural beechwood and rests on cabriole legs; one of the rear seat rails bears the stamp of Guillaume Boucault. (Guillaume Boucault was admitted as a master craftsman on December 17, 1766.) Reference: Les ébénistes français du XVIIIe siècle by Pierre Kjellberg, page 84. The armchairs are upholstered in a yellow damask fabric featuring a floral motif, finished with traditional nailhead trim. The set stands on carved, curved (cabriole) legs. The arm supports feature a "whiplash" (curved) design and are set back from the front legs. The set is in good condition. An invoice and certificate of authenticity, issued by an approved expert, will be provided upon
