Description

Bronze sculpture with a brown patina depicting Napoleon Bonaparte on a battlefield, signed Daumié and dating from the late 19th century. The Emperor stands wearing his bicorne hat, with his right hand tucked into his waistcoat. This iconic pose gives the sculpture a commanding presence. The carefully rendered uniform and facial features are highlighted by the brown patina, which brings out the modelling. Standing 39 cm tall, this bronze would sit naturally on a desk, console table or in a library. A subject for collectors of Napoleonic memorabilia and admirers of antique sculpture alike. Good overall condition. A slight trace of verdigris is present on the back. Period: late 19th century. Signature: Daumié. Material: bronze with a brown patina. Height: 39 cm. Width: 13 cm. Diameter: 13
