Description

Elegant and sculptural, this 18-karat gold ring stands out for its bold architectural lines and a carefully arranged pattern of diamonds. The generous band is structured by a succession of wide, polished facets, whose play of light emphasizes the piece's volume and presence. The design is punctuated by rectangular sections set with brilliant-cut diamonds. With a total weight of approximately 0.60 carats, a declared clarity of VS-SI, and a color grade of F-G, the diamonds are arranged in compact clusters that create luminous accents against the polished gold. The contrast between the diamond pavé and the mirror-polished surfaces gives the piece the visual depth characteristic of high-quality jewelry. The design is also marked by stylized screw motifs integrated into the ring's side facets.

Far from being mere structural elements, they play a full part in the jewelry's aesthetic, which is based on the combination of rigorous geometry, technical craftsmanship, and precious materials. The substantial weight of the gold, the bold proportions, and the measured arrangement of the diamonds come together to form a cohesive and instantly recognizable whole. This ring possesses the character of a statement piece, designed to stand out as a powerful piece in its own right. Material: 18-karat gold, brilliant-cut diamonds. Diamonds: Total weight approximately 0.60 carats; color F-G; clarity VS-SI. Ring size: 18. Weight: 8.91 g. ID-ANTQ-5778
