Watercolor On Paper - "to The Golden Razor" With Original Frame

1 100 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Water color

Description

A refined watercolor on paper with great narrative charm, dated 1879 in the lower right corner, depicting a lively and detailed genre scene inside a 19th-century barbershop, titled "To The Golden Razor" on the sign inside. The work stands out for its excellent execution and the wealth of ironic and realistic details: from the barber at work on his client, to the waiting gentlemen in period attire, right down to the curious environmental details such as the birdcages and the small bulldog curled up under the chair. The composition, rich in theatricality and dynamism, evokes the style of the famous 19th-century Anglo-Saxon caricatures and genre scenes. The work is enhanced by its original, contemporary ebonized and gilded frame, which highlights its significance and period
