

18th-century Mahogany Bordeaux-style Louis XV Cabinet

1 600 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Mahogany

Description

Louis XV-Style Mahogany Bordeaux Wardrobe - 18th Century A magnificent and imposing mahogany Bordeaux wardrobe in the Louis XV style, dating from the 18th century. This elegant cabinet opens with two large doors featuring double panels that are molded and scalloped, separated by a central faux frame with fluting. It is topped by a superb "gendarme's hat" cornice, with generous and harmoniously crafted curves. The lower rail features a beautiful scroll-cut design, embellished with small carved scrolls. It rests on four curved legs topped with volutes, characteristic of the Louis XV style. The sides are also paneled and molded, reflecting the care taken in crafting this piece. It retains its beautiful original lock plates as well as its long lacing pegs. The interior offers ample storage

Dealer

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth

Mobile : 06 99 48 80 76

1 domaine de Montrabech

Lézignan-Corbières 11200

space with several shelves. This cabinet features a beautiful antique patina with warm, deep tones, along with some signs of wear consistent with its age. A truly beautiful piece of regional Bordeaux furniture, notable for its slender proportions, the quality of its moldings, and the elegance of its silhouette. Dimensions: Height: 275 cm Width: 150 cm Depth: 57 cm Style: Louis XV Attributed period: 18th century