Description

Elegant Pair of Louis XVI-Style Nightstands in Mahogany, White Marble, and Gilded Brass Trim
A very elegant pair of matching Louis XVI-style nightstands, crafted from mahogany, featuring fine cabinetmaking and particularly harmonious proportions. These two pieces stand out for their neoclassical lines, meticulous finish, and beautiful combination of warm-toned mahogany, veined white marble, and gilded brass trim. Each nightstand features three stacked drawers on the front, accented by thin brass moldings and fitted with small circular pull knobs. The side panels are adorned with vertical fluting characteristic of the Louis XVI style, while the tapered legs, finished with gilded metal feet, lend the piece a sense of delicacy and lightness. The top is crowned with an elegant white marble slab with subtle veining, surrounded on three sides by an openwork gilt-bronze railing, typical of refined Louis XVI-style furniture. At the bottom, a mahogany shelf provides additional storage or display space. Also noteworthy is the beautiful craftsmanship of the drawers, with their traditional dovetail joints, reflecting the care taken in their construction. This pair of nightstands forms a particularly decorative set, suitable for an elegant bedroom or a living room, where they can serve as small side tables on either side of a sofa. Their slender silhouette and the understated richness of their trim allow them to blend seamlessly into both classic and contemporary interiors.
