Description

An important three-door Art Deco-style chest of drawers, crafted from stained wood and adorned with decorative marquetry panels. The front features remarkable compositions inspired by the theme of music, characteristic of the decorative style of the period. The left door is adorned with a stylized female mask; the central composition features a musician, a violin, and keyboard motifs; while the right door depicts a guitarist rendered in the geometric aesthetic characteristic of Art Deco.The decoration is crafted from marquetry using veneers of various wood species, whose natural hues form a complex graphic design and a rich interplay of textures. The compositions combine the stylistic characteristics of Art Deco with Cubist-inspired elements and the decorative modernism of the first half of the
