Description

"The Painting of Our Lady of Perpetual Help is an icon said to be miraculous, the original version of which dates from the 14th century; it is of the Byzantine style. It is generally believed to have been painted by St. Luke. The purpose of this icon is not to depict a magnificent scene or figures, but to convey a spiritual message." The Mother of Christ is depicted with the Instruments of the Passion on either side, held by the archangels Michael and Gabriel. The painting is in good condition; the panel, which is not held in a frame, is slightly warped.
