the glass, Chopard and serial number on the clasp. Condition: Very good overall condition. A few minor scratches from wear, normal for a piece of this age, with no impact on its appearance. The necklace is supple, with evenly spaced links. The settings are uniform and the diamonds are brilliant, living up to what one would expect from a leading jeweler. Weighing 140 g, the necklace has a real presence while remaining comfortable thanks to the flexibility of the links. The diamond-encrusted circle, set against the curve of the neckline, brings the piece to life: the five diamonds shift with every slight movement and catch the light.
