Mahogany And Gilded Bronze Ceremonial Desk, Empire Period, Circa 1810

3 800 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Mahogany

Description

Ceremonial Desk in Mahogany and Gilded Bronze, Empire Period, circa 1810Exquisite Center Desk, in Mahogany and Mahogany Veneer with Gilded Bronze, from the Empire Period, circa 1810.This ceremonial desk, with a rectangular top and visible on all sides, is topped with a lovely brown leather top, embossed with a fine gold pattern. It features two side pull-out drawers, also lined with leather. This desk opens with four drawers at the front. The entire piece is richly accented with moldings and adorned with delicate floral garlands, ribbons, a laurel wreath, and plant motifs. Its legs are embellished with large gilded bronze palmettes. Its four curved legs are topped with remarkable figures of winged chimeras with lion heads and end in elegant gilded bronze feet. Its side panels are also

Dealer

DANTAN
Mobilier et objets XVIIIème, XIXème, XXème
Mobile : 06.81.50.13.37

Arras 62000

embellished with rich applied mascarons. Made of a very fine wood and featuring exceptionally rich ornamentation.Parisian furniture of fine craftsmanship, featuring elegant and refined lines. This desk combines practicality with its spacious work surface and storage drawers. But it also makes for a stunning visual statement with its rich bronze accents, warm mahogany wood, delicate lines, and elegant proportions. You can place it against a wall or in the center of the room to enjoy its decorative appeal from all angles. This piece, with its meticulous finishes, reflects the elegance of the Empire period and will become a centerpiece of your home.Empire-era piece, 19th century, circa 1810.Dimensions: Height: 78 cmWidth: 130 cmDepth: 65 cmLeg Clearance: 62 cmIn Excellent Condition.We are at your disposal for any additional informationWWW.DANTAN.STORE