Description

Bronze table candlestick (gold-colored) from the 18th century, Louis XVI period, converted into a cordless lamp. Round base decorated with beads. Fluted shaft. The cordless light bulb is brand new and can be controlled using the included remote control or directly via the button on the bulb itself. The magnetic base system allows you to easily remove the bulb from the top of the lampshade to recharge it via a USB-C cable. This system is ideal for using this lamp on a table indoors or outdoors, as well as in areas without electrical outlets. New brass socket and new candle. Its pagoda-shaped lampshade was created using engravings inspired by the Bay of Naples, in the style of early 19th-century Neapolitan gouaches from the Grand Tour.
