

Madame Récamier - Magnificent Neoclassical Bust In Carrara Marble

3 200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Marble

Length : 65

Width : 36

Diameter : 30

Description

A magnificent bust in white Carrara marble depicting Juliette Récamier (1777-1849), one of the most famous and admired women in French society during the Napoleonic era. Carved with great finesse from Carrara marble, this elegant work perfectly captures the timeless beauty, grace, and refinement associated with Madame Récamier, an iconic figure of French neoclassical culture. Her serene expression, the delicacy of her features, and the soft contours of her face convey a remarkable sense of tranquility and elegance. The meticulously sculpted hairstyle reveals particularly careful attention to detail in the curls and strands of hair. The delicate draping of her garment creates a harmonious contrast between the smooth, polished surfaces of her face and the more deeply worked folds of the fabric,

Dealer

Mora Antiques

Timeless Antiques with Style - Carefully Selected & Worldwide Shipping

Tel : 0031642510212

Mobile : 0032469115104

Keramiekstraat 28

Bilzen 28 3740

lending the composition depth and balance. Juliette Récamier (1777-1849) Famous for her beauty, elegance, and intellectual influence, Juliette Récamier was one of the most admired figures in early 19th-century French society. Her famous Parisian salon welcomed writers, artists, and leading political figures, making her a key figure in the cultural and intellectual life of her time. Her beauty and charisma inspired numerous painters and sculptors, helping to make her image a true symbol of neoclassical elegance. This superb Carrara marble bust bears witness to the timeless charm of classical beauty and the refinement of the European sculptural tradition. A work of great elegance, ideal for enriching an art collection or adding a touch of distinction to a classical or contemporary interior.