Description

This large, ornate vase is made of earthenware and gilt bronze. It dates from the late 19th century and was produced by the Choisy-le-Roi factory. The earthenware section features a cream background with floral decoration and a knot with a gilt and silver patina. The lower part is speckled with gold. The vase bears several marks from the Choisy-le-Roi factory, as well as a stamp on the side with the inscription "A DEBRA". The bronze section is decorated with acanthus leaves and other foliage. It also bears the mark of the Compagnie des Bronzes de Bruxelles. This exceptional vase will add an incredible touch of elegance to your home. Please note a few minor imperfections, as shown in the photos. For more information, please do not hesitate to contact us.
