

Vintage "party Flowers" Ashtray And Candleholder From The 1970s, S Agudo-style Flower Design

200 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Bronze

Description

A flower-shaped ashtray from the 1970s that doubles as a candleholder, iconic and vintage; each petal detaches to form an individual ashtray. Unsigned but typical of S. Agudo's work and the "party flowers" style pioneered by him. It can also be arranged into a closed flower, in which case one petal remains available. Made of silver-plated bronze, in good condition, with a light patina from normal wear. Height 12.8 cm, maximum width at the base 23.2 cm.
