Description

Sideboard crafted from striped walnut with refined details in maple and rosewood, from England in the late 19th century. The upper section features a pair of glass-fronted doors, ideal for displaying valuable objects, while the base has paneled doors embellished with central inlays depicting a floral arrangement in a vase, crafted from various types of wood. The inlaid floral decorations are repeated on the bands below the top and on the side panels, which are further embellished with chiseled and gilded bronze accents, including the details of the air vents. A piece that combines elegance and masterful craftsmanship. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this item requires restoration and re-polishing. We strive to present the actual condition of the piece as completely as possible
