Description

A walnut display cabinet made in England in the late 19th century, embellished with elegant inlays of rosewood and maple. The inlays, crafted from various woods, depict floral and foliage motifs that adorn the molded band beneath the top, the side posts, and the upper corners of the glass door. The side panels are further embellished with chiseled and gilded bronze appliqués, lending a touch of refinement to the entire piece. The cantilevered feet and fir wood interior complete the structure, which has a small crack in the right-hand corner of the base. A refined example of period craftsmanship, ideal for enhancing any space with a touch of history and style.Product condition:Due to its age and wear, this item requires restoration and re-polishing.
