Description

An elegant French writing desk in the Louis XVI style, dating from the second half of the 19th century and crafted from fine rosewood. The top features a diamond-patterned veneer with a mirror-like grain and is decorated in the center with a rich inlay depicting a bouquet of flowers in various light-colored woods. A frame of leaf-motif scrolls and fillets surrounds the entire top, which is finished with a brass trim. The front panel, featuring a lock, is also embellished with elegant inlaid arabesques; it rests on four tapered, fluted legs.
