Description

Traditional Chinese painted wooden wedding or celebration basket (19th / early 20th century).Immerse yourself in the history of folk art from the late Qing Dynasty with this magnificent ceremonial carrying basket (Tílán), a one-of-a-kind piece steeped in symbolism and poetry. Entirely crafted from weathered wood, this octagonal basket was once used to present the precious "wine of longevity" at wedding banquets or major family celebrations. An exceptional historical artifact:The upper rim features superb black-ink calligraphy, rendering a ritual poem dedicated to the famous Eight Immortals of Taoism. Among other things, one can make out vibrant tributes to Li Tieguai (the Immortal with the Crutch) and Uncle Cao Guojiu.Original decorations preserved:The lower panels are
