Description

Pair of small gilded bronze candlesticks in the Louis XVI style, resting on a square base decorated with a "heart-stripe" motif. The central shaft is adorned with fluting and chiseled "asparagus" motifs, and topped with candle cups embellished with pearls; 19th century. These pieces were crafted by the renowned Cailar Bayard company, one of France's leading manufacturers of luxury tableware and decorative silverware, between the late 19th and early 20th centuries. They bear the stamped "Cailar Bayard" mark on the underside of the base. The company ceased operations during the 20th century after being acquired by Christofle. Dimensions: 10 x 7.5 x 7.5 cm
