Description

A Baroque-style chest of drawers made of walnut, featuring a design rich in ornamental details. The front has four drawers, the first of which is shorter and positioned beneath the top. The side panels are finely carved with motifs of cherubs, leaves, and scrollwork, while the base molding is decorated with upper masks and a leaf-motif frieze. The carved shelf-style legs lend the piece both stability and elegance. The handles, featuring sculpted faces, and the finely crafted knobs further enhance the overall aesthetic. This chest of drawers, originating from Italy in the mid-20th century, is an example of the masterful craftsmanship and attention to detail typical of the Baroque style.
