Description

A charming set of three miniature 19th-century candlesticks, consisting of a pair of chain-handled candlesticks and a small handheld candlestick adorned with a scarab.These three pieces, crafted from patinated bronze and brass, are of particular interest due to their small size, the quality of their craftsmanship, and their decorative character.The pair of chain-style candlesticks, 12 cm tall, features an elegant silhouette in the Louis-Philippe style. Their miniature proportions and the care taken in their craftsmanship suggest several possible uses: doll accessories, miniature furniture pieces, or possibly master's pieces. Their original function, however, remains difficult to determine with certainty.The decorative chains and the craftsmanship of the mountings lend them great charm.The small handheld candleholder stands out for its original decoration: a beetle delicately placed in the cup, adding a naturalistic touch to this composition.This type of animal motif evokes the 19th-century bronze casters' fondness for insects and small animals, particularly in the style of works produced by firms such as Barbedienne, though no specific attribution can be made.The set constitutes an interesting collection of small bronze and brass objects, reflecting the care taken in 19th-century decorative arts, even in their most modest creations.Good overall condition. These objects have been used and show some signs of wear and the passage of time, without detracting from their charm or appearance.Characteristics:Period: 19th centuryStyle: Louis-Philippe for the pair of candlesticksMaterials: patinated bronze and brassComposition: two miniature candlesticks with chains and a handheld candleholder featuring a scarabHeight of the candlesticks: 12 cmDiameter of the handheld candleholder's bowl: 6 cmCondition: good overall condition, signs of ageSold as a set of three piecesAdditional Information and ShippingPlease feel free to contact us for any inquiries, additional photos, or a video presentation of the item so you can appreciate it from every angle.You can also find our new arrivals and videos of our items on Instagram: @lalchimiste.atelierWe always respond to all messages, usually within 48 hours.
