Description

ENGLISH SCHOOL, LATE 18TH - EARLY 19TH CENTURY -- AUTUMN LANDSCAPE OF THE LAKE DISTRICT This beautiful and significant watercolor enhanced with gouache depicts a landscape of the Lake District in northwestern England. In the foreground, a majestic tree with copper-colored foliage towers over the rocks at the water's edge. Its warm color palette, punctuated by golden browns and russets, sets the scene in autumn. In the background, the bluish hills and diffuse clouds create a sweeping landscape, bathed in soft light. A solitary figure, seated at the edge of the lake, brings the composition to life and emphasizes its scale. The delicate brushwork, the interplay of planes, and the peaceful atmosphere of this work are in keeping with the tradition of the English
