Description

???? Vintage 1950s hairdresser's chair - Olive green velvet and pleated skirt Charming vintage hairdresser's chair from the 1950s, with a delightfully retro style, recognizable by its generously rounded seat, small upholstered backrest, and pretty pleated skirt that reaches all the way to the floor. A piece full of character, halfway between boudoir furniture and vintage decor.???? Entirely upholstered in olive green velvet with subtle tone-on-tone patterns, this chair captivates with its soft, warm hues. The upholstery features delicate, slightly raised patterns that are particularly visible depending on the angle of the light. Matching piping elegantly highlights the outline of the seat and the edges of the backrest.???? Its silhouette is particularly original: a round, thick seat, a low, slightly slanted backrest, and a skirt with wide, even pleats that completely conceals the base. This upholstery work gives it a refined look, typical of small bedroom and dressing table chairs from the mid-20th century. The fabric is in good overall condition, with only a few slight signs of age and wear. The upholstery retains its beautiful appearance, with its lovely drape and meticulous finishes. A vintage piece that has retained all its charm. Perfect in front of a vanity, in a bedroom, a walk-in closet, or a reading nook, this small chair will also fit right into a contemporary interior, where its unique shape will add a soft, retro touch. Dimensions: width 46 cm × depth 40 cm × total height 57 cm. Seat height: 39 cm. Shipping available in France and worldwide
