Chasuble Made Of White Silk Damask And Pink Silk Velvet, Embroidered By Roume De Joyet, Paris,

150 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Prévoir restauration

Material : Silk

Description

An elegant liturgical chasuble made of white silk damask, adorned with a pink silk velvet cross richly decorated with gold and silver thread embroidery, featuring a central monogram and radiating motifs.This piece bears the label of the P. Roume de Joyet company, which specialized in church vestments and religious embroidery and was located at 4 Rue Férou in Paris. Late 19th century.Condition: significant wear, tears, and fragility of the fabrics, particularly the lining. Restoration required.

Dealer

Ostade Antiques

Brussels based antique dealer specialised in 18th and 19th century antiques

Mobile : +32 486251211

Bruxelles 1030