Description

Verlys - Large Art Deco Glass Bowl with Water Lily Design - Circa 1930 A very beautiful and substantial circular bowl made of transparent pressed-molded glass, featuring a floral relief design and frosted sections, attributed to the famous French glassworks Verlys.This elegant bowl features a rich, naturalistic design of blooming water lily flowers, flower buds, and broad aquatic leaves, delicately arranged across its entire surface.The glasswork subtly plays on the contrasts between the transparent sections and the satin-finished motifs, delicately highlighting the petals, the veins of the leaves, and the ripples evoking the surface of the water.Small raised bubbles complete this particularly refined aquatic composition.The bowl has a widely flared shape with a smooth, circular rim, offering beautiful
