Description

Double-door wardrobe/pantry, in fine solid walnut, made in France in the second half of the 17th century (Louis XIII/Baroque period). "Diamond-tip" workmanship with geometric relief panels on the doors and, a rare detail, also on the sides, hand-carved from a single piece of solid walnut. Solid and linear rectilinear structure with large upper and lower cornices. Sturdy exposed wrought-iron front hinges. The cabinet rests on turned onion-shaped front feet, the original antique back panel features thick hand-cut planks. The interior offers a very spacious and deep compartment (54 cm), ideal for both a wardrobe and a pantry. This piece is intact and restored, characterized by a splendid, warm natural patina. Width including frame: 157 cm Depth: 58 cm Height: 212 cm BUY
