Description

View of the Paris area by Philippe Budelot, Consulate-Empire period, circa 1800. A landscape featuring five figures and a dog on a path bordering a forest. In the background, a hill bathed in the warm light of twilight overlooks a body of water in which a few trees are reflected. Philippe Budelot (1770-1840) trained under Lazare Bruandet and exhibited at the Salon from 1793 to 1841. He painted hunting scenes, riders resting, fords, and forest paths--all situations in which the landscape unfolds alongside the presence of figures. At the 1810 Salon, he presented a landscape titled "The Élysée Garden of the Musée des Monuments Français." Some works are noted as having been created in collaboration for the figures. This oil on canvas mounted on a key-frame is signed "Ph. Budelot" in the lower
