Description

Sèvres bisque porcelain medallion, profile of Marie-Antoinette, Dauphine, 20th century Circular relief medallion in white bisque porcelain from the Sèvres National Porcelain Manufactory, made in the mid-20th century. This medallion depicts the profile of Marie-Antoinette in a court gown, based on the historical model of the medal created in 1770 by the Austrian engraver Anton Franz Widemann to celebrate the marriage by proxy of the Archduchess of Austria to the future King Louis XVI. The border is adorned with the Latin inscription: "M. ANTONIA ARC. AVST. LUDOVIC. FRANCIAE DELPHIN. SPONSA" (Marie-Antoinette, Archduchess of Austria, wife of Louis, Dauphin of France). The object is presented in its original velvet frame. On the back,
