Description

? HISTORY & DESIGNAlveo coffee table, designed by Willy Rizzo (1928-2013) and produced in Italy by Mario Sabot in the 1970s. A renowned photographer before turning his attention to furniture design, Rizzo developed a design language characterized by lacquered forms, polished metal, and concealed functions. The Alveo embodies this synthesis: a thick tabletop with rounded corners, resting on a recessed base, and a built-in central tray designed to serve as a bar.? TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONSTop and base: black lacquer.Corners: chrome-plated metal pieces.Central tray: steel, recessed into the top.Dimensions: W 130 × D 80 × H 35 cm.? CONDITION REPORT (Galerie Transparence)Very good overall condition.
