Description

A large architectural painting, likely Italian, dating approximately from the 1970s-1980s.The work depicts a monumental urban view, perhaps of Rome, featuring classical buildings, columns, staircases, and sculptural elements. The composition is executed in an expressive painterly style, with bold brushstrokes and a color palette consisting of white, blue, ochre, and black.Oil on canvas, signed lower left and bearing a handwritten annotation on the back that likely refers to the Campidoglio in Rome. The painting is set in a narrow, gold-colored frame.Dimensions: 102H x 122W
