Pair Of Glass Desk Lamps

850 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Parfait état

Description

A pair of table lamps with a contemporary and elegant design, featuring a beautiful, sculptural base made of smoked glass with rounded, generous lines formed by several stacked sections. The tinted transparency of the glass, in subtle shades of brown and smoky gray, creates magnificent reflections and adds a sophisticated touch to the overall design.The base rests on a square chrome-plated metal base, which accentuates its modern silhouette. They are topped with cylindrical white fabric shades that diffuse a soft light.With their timeless elegance and decorative presence, these lamps will look perfect on a console table, a sideboard, or a pair of nightstands--in both contemporary and more classic interiors.They come from the Grand Hotel Continental and were manufactured by
