Description

An elegant Victorian-era floor lamp, dating from the late 19th / early 20th century, crafted from gilded bronze of the highest quality. The lamp features an elegant telescopic stem that is adjustable in height, supported by a richly detailed, finely crafted tripod base, embellished with plant motifs, volutes, and refined decorative elements. Particularly beautiful is the original gilding, which is well-preserved, highlighting the quality of the craftsmanship and lending the piece great elegance and decorative charm. The lamp is in excellent overall condition, with natural signs of aging. Electrical system requires servicing; operation not guaranteed. Dimensions: Maximum height: Approx. 197 cm Tripod base: Approx. 48 cm per side Lampshade diameter: Approx. 55 cm
