Delvaux Bag, "le Marronnier" Model, 1977

2 100 EUR

Signature : Delvax

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Length : 26

Height : 20

Depth : 6,5

Description

A Piece of Belgian Leather Goods HistoryDesigned in 1977 by Delvaux's renowned designer, the Le Marronnier model--the direct predecessor of the famous Le Madame bag--stands out for its sleek, chic, and exceptionally functional design.The combination of grained leather and jet blackCrafted from exquisite black grained leather, this bag combines suppleness, character, and remarkable durability over time. Its grained texture gives it a discreet, refined look that is less prone to micro-scratches, enhancing the silhouette's understated design.Practicality and sophistication for everyday useUnlike its single-compartment successor, the 1977 Le Marronnier stands out with an ingenious design featuring two spacious compartments, allowing for optimal organization

Dealer

Galerie Passé Présent

Antiquités , arts décoratifs et arts plastiques du XX et XXI siècle-

Mobile : +32 496214845

Bruxelles 1000

of your essentials. Its adjustable shoulder strap allows you to carry it comfortably over the shoulder or as a crossbody bag, adapting to any style from morning to night.Condition of the ItemThis collector's item is in perfect condition, a testament to the care it has received and the legendary durability of Delvaux's workshops. A rare piece for lovers of authentic vintage style and understated luxury.