900 EUR

Signature : Manufacture de Lunéville

Period : 19th century

Description

A fine white earthenware dinner service with a pink combed rim; it consists of 28 dinner plates, 18 soup plates, 25 dessert plates, 2 rocaille-style vegetable bowls and their stands, 1 salad bowl with lid, and 1 mounted plate, for a total of 75 pieces. Our set is an ornate design featuring pieces mounted on rocaille-style bases and lids fitted with handles shaped like asparagus, leeks, and foliage. All pieces bear the KG Lunéville signature and the coat of arms of Lorraine, the work of Gallé, who revived the popularity of these pieces cast from 18th-century molds. A beautiful set reflecting the art of living at the end of the 19th century: the service is elegantly simple, very fresh in style, and has retained a large number of pieces suitable for a beautiful table in a country home.
