Description

Magnificent Napoleon III-era (19th century) tabletop planter , characterized by a violin-shaped form typical of the Second Empire. It is crafted from blackened wood veneer and elm burl/rosewood, enhanced by delicate geometric and floral marquetry inlaid with mother-of-pearl and brass fillets. The structure is adorned with rich gilded bronze trim, including an openwork upper gallery, foliated corner spandrels extending down to the curved legs, and beaded friezes accentuating the curves.Inside, it retains its original removable lacquered zinc tray, designed to protect the precious wood from plants and moisture.Dimensions: 40x30 cm
