Description

A splendid pair of cloisonné enamel vases with lids, dating from the early 20th century and from a prestigious French collection. Examples of great decorative refinement, these pieces combine ancient Chinese artistic tradition with the European collecting taste of the Belle Époque, a period when objects of Eastern art were particularly sought after for decorating the most elegant residences.The vases feature richly detailed polychrome decoration created using the cloisonné technique, achieved by thin metal wires that delineate the various enamel fields. The entire surface is embellished with a dense interweaving of floral and foliage motifs on a gold background, executed with extraordinary precision and characterized by vivid shades of green, light blue, pink, and blue, in perfect
